

Weekly Weight Tracker

Thank you for downloading the Weekly Weight Tracker from Sage Grayson Coaching at <http://sagegrayson.com>. This DIY weight-loss log will help you keep track of your weight and measurements for 52 weeks.

Instructions

- Get a deck of cards and remove the jokers so you have 52 cards, one for each week of the year.
- Next, get a pair of scissors, adhesive or glue, a hole punch, and print this PDF of the Weekly Weight Tracker. Print the tracking chart page as many times as necessary.
- Cover the face of each card with adhesive. I like using scrapbook tape because it helps the paper lay flat. Cut out a tracking chart and stick it to the card.
- Don't have any playing cards? Just print the Weekly Weight Tracker on heavy-weight card stock and cut out the cards.
- Carefully cut around the card to remove the excess paper. Keep going until all of the cards have a tracking chart.
- Included in this PDF are more than 50 inspirational weight-loss quotes. Glue the quotes to the back of the cards, if you decide to use them.
- I divided my deck into 4 groups and added a cover and 3 "Progress Check-In" markers (also included in this PDF). You can choose whether to make a cover or use checkpoints.
- Carefully punch a hole into the corner of each card.
- Use a metal clip ring, a key chain, pretty ribbon, or elastic ties to bind the cards together.
